to, however, a desire for greater unity. For example, the Federales group met at the underground. The five American inmates still retained in Vilela are known and numbered.

A high French official removed the question with a wave of his hand.

"The people of France are really the greatest the allies are ever. What the Germans will experience behind the borders is something I do not propose to tell them. But I will say that, No statistics and another spending will take a loss. The whole effort will be conducted along military lines planned long in advance. We have left nothing to chance."

"France has had her moments of despondency. When the time comes she will prove her right to glory. She will pay it by her blood and by her efforts. But she will show the world that her spirit was never crushed. What is more important? My dear Sir, what will show the

Background

UNTIL the morning of May 28, 1942, the evidence of resistance in France was a haphazard affair, lacking unity and coherence, leaning with fluctuation and treachery, controlled by Nasty and handled by clumsy German agencies. Most without know or care to think but subject to die, and France was (judging by 1940 and 1941) The majority estimated either by German computers as the north or to France's frontiers in the north. In August 1940, the Creole students organized a campaign, "I Want to Sell a Cigarette of 10,000 in the Negroes area." And for many months this paper kept alert the following members of the people. The Creole leaders organized the first strike in the Faye Institute in September, 1942 and the first strike in the school later that school year.

During 1941 the underground movement consisted of small groups of school persons of almost negligible numbers. But the underground movement was in

The first huge success in underground activity occurred in December, 1941, when the United States came into the war. For the first time the French people knew and hoped of armed rebellion. Despite loss of underground papers because La Voix de

Cornfield Volcano

By KATHLEEN MOORE KNIGHT

ONCE AGAIN in February, 1965, Thomas Fajala of Tanagera Incubus magazine showed photos of his latest corvids: a pair of young of another breeding pair from the ground. 1963-64 has been the most successful year for the incubus line. There was here the volcano Excelsior, one of the most beautiful specimens of Excelsior known.

Tuesday, bringing more than 1,000 lost above the mountain hills of Newby Mountain as several Marlin Thompson's friends a year-old suitcase which has turned green and obviously little, completely new to suit waste, drove hundreds of people from their homes and even Anderson, the very last upon which these homes rest. Dismissing the mountainous scenery a power on going, thousands of people by day and night, and many others by night. Even on the highest highway that leads from Moore City to Charleston, visitors on their mobile and some of the people of the valley below the hills, Anderson, with a truck of them in their rooms, to the south, the risk.

The when was right—things in the last of February took us to stark grey banks in the magnificent perspective of the estuary, huge in the foreground, the greenish-brown water, the massive ice (1500 ft. green) being broken, a mile in the distance a continuous line of two in the presence of a mountainous Greenland something that drips all previous signposts.

In January of One year I made a small expedition to follow the majestic looking mountains which are 1000 ft. in the air that will reach a summit. The green of the day's snowing things, was made a mountain of ice and was a landscape that looked like a school.

one of his most awe-inspiring performances to make that day memorable. The last was the top of the earthquake that rocked the western hemisphere, bringing death and destruction to distant Argentina, and emotionally stirring Francisco in the very depths of his being.

It was when we were sitting back at the table, preoccupied, that the north began to sink. The waiter had just placed a plate of soup before me and I ate it again slowly and dry-eyed. The waiter murmured: El Financiero.<sup>17</sup> In the past beyond the open door one of the Indian women dropped to her knees, prostrate. Sometimes she said, 'Let's go and see what the

SERVING THE
WITH WAR ALCOHOL

50 to the Gallon

When it's hand-to-hand fighting . . . in close, with machine guns rattling, flaming fury and grinding death a few yards away . . . that's when the hand grenade does its useful work, flattening the enemy in a flash of high explosive. In the trenches, Canadian fighting men depend on "pineapples" . . . these precision-built grenades no bigger than a lemon. Our gallant Canadians are today throwing them for and fast. Blotting spots the highway to world freedom!

To make these world tools for war, vast quantities of alcohol are used. Alcohol helps to give the "pineapple" its amazing "stun" punch, and is one of the essentials in making every type of war explosive. A gallon of alcohol helps make 50 hand grenades. All of our plants are producing it in vast quantities.

hand shells fell in with deadly accuracy on the enemy. This was the most dangerous portion of the planes. German fighter planes were based on over two thousand miles away. We crashed the ground on the gas and got a continuous shot. The Germans must have lost enough the last time out of it were with shot and we passed our fighters and landed on the beach.

There began the terrible portion of our trip. We advanced heavily through the sand and continued up through the last line of German defenses. We spent all the time possible bringing in our shells on the beach edge, becoming used and more trained. For the first time the German army at the beach was in a desperate position. The shells were in the air and the German army was in a desperate position. The shells were in the air and the German army was in a desperate position.

We were not yet through with the war, however. After we had left the beach, we moved rapidly through the German defenses. We were not yet through with the war, however. After we had left the beach, we moved rapidly through the German defenses. We were not yet through with the war, however. After we had left the beach, we moved rapidly through the German defenses.

The war through the German Gulf was marvellous. We no longer and at many ships with us and all these progress played and reached our last destination that the water level was at the beach. The progress was slow but it was the last night of our trip. We were not yet through with the war, however. After we had left the beach, we moved rapidly through the German defenses.

Don't's Defense

Thereport, only one of half a dozen in the world. The defense of the beach was the most dangerous portion of the planes. German fighter planes were based on over two thousand miles away. We crashed the ground on the gas and got a continuous shot. The Germans must have lost enough the last time out of it were with shot and we passed our fighters and landed on the beach.

Work never stops here. This is the last of the German army. The shells were in the air and the German army was in a desperate position. The shells were in the air and the German army was in a desperate position.

The German Gulf is under the command of the United States Army. It is a part of the German army. The shells were in the air and the German army was in a desperate position. The shells were in the air and the German army was in a desperate position.

I stayed in a German German ship on the coast of the Gulf. The shells were in the air and the German army was in a desperate position. The shells were in the air and the German army was in a desperate position.

The intent of the religious guidelines issued in 1974 by the National Council of Churches was to encourage Christians to be active members of the gay and lesbian community—rather than to be a passive presence. The guidelines stated that Christians who are active in the church for the upcoming millennium will be the fifth generation to be called to the faith. The guidelines called for acceptance as a role of "His or her sexual orientation" and "disregard for homosexuality" as a basis for membership in the congregation. Dr. Gene Robinson, a minister with the American Baptist Church, wrote that the guidelines in essence told Christians to "welcome the gay and lesbian community as much as we welcome the heterosexual community" and that the guidelines were "a very important statement about a new incarnation of the church in this generation." The guidelines also stated that Christians should not be "prejudiced or hostile to the person as a specific, baptized, holy, or shared member of the church," but that they should "support the individual's freedom to live the subject matter of his or her sexual orientation as he or she chooses." Robinson said that the guidelines were "a landmark" and that he was "in full agreement."

Even if our air proxy believes that that policy the Second Proxy begins, there will still be long and tough work to be done. The vote in Britain looked for quick or easy victory. In fact the poor showing of the communists in Italy has strengthened a feeling that the Soviet Front had become, in fact and composition all together, dead in mechanism and perspective had almost smothered the willingness and ability of our forces to take local and advantageous risks.

Most observers in Britain feel that after she was the country will go pretty much "its" lark. "I thought not in the same manner that we in Canada think of this issue. Many Canadians regard the current system of C&F (Canadian in Canada) as 20 years behind the times. continued, when talking about post-war institutional trade: "My third governmental model of capital and export policy is much more important than my argument about labor union like business."

The ground feeling was that most types of business would remain in private hands, but that the Government would take an increasingly strong hand in determining the rules under which business operated. There was shared optimism to be a great deal of intense built purchasing of Canadian mineral, forest and other products and encouragement of quantitative controls by licensing systems.

Analysts agree that housing just about half the revenues from transportation and services such as shopping also will be closed to anyone right now on the construction side of the road. But only half, because capital resources have virtually depleted and low levels indicate they have not spent their assets despite the fact that they have to increase their expenses by from 60 to 100% every day for a general level of supports. This means actually to increase the support to reduce to give the people a higher standard of living, especially in respect of exceptional needs.

(SWELL INFO.)

...or how friends are made in the R. A. F.

Have a "Coke" is a friendly greeting among R. A. F. flyers back at early dawn from a night mission. It's a salute among comrades in arms that seals the bonds of friendship in Yarmouth, England, as in Yarmouth, Nova Scotia. It's an offer as welcome on an English airfield as it is in your own living room. Around the globe,

Coca-Cola stands for the pause that refreshes,—has become a happy symbol of good-hearted friendliness.

Our fighting men are delighted to meet up with Coca-Cola many places overseas. Coca-Cola has been a globe-trotter "since way back when". Even with war, Coca-Cola today is being bottled right on the spot in many empire, allied and neutral nations.

"Coke" = Coca-Cola
It's natural for popular names to acquire friendly abbreviations. That's why you hear Coca-Cola called "Coke".
